

“Your Story, God's Grace”
Acts 22:1-21

1. Being _____ doesn't make us right with God.
2. We are saved by God's grace, not by _____ .
3. God _____ us so that we can see our _____ for His mercy.
4. God saves us for His _____, not just our own _____ .

Am I trusting in God's grace or in my own goodness?

Am I willing to let the Lord humble and correct me?

What is one practical way I can live for His purposes this week?

“Your Story, God's Grace”
Acts 22:1-21

1. Being _____ doesn't make us right with God.
2. We are saved by God's grace, not by _____ .
3. God _____ us so that we can see our _____ for His mercy.
4. God saves us for His _____, not just our own _____ .

Am I trusting in God's grace or in my own goodness?

Am I willing to let the Lord humble and correct me?

What is one practical way I can live for His purposes this week?

Questions for the Week

1. In Acts 22:3–5, Paul describes his religious background and his persecution of Christians. How could Paul be so sincere in his beliefs and yet be so wrong? What does this teach us about the importance of knowing Jesus, not simply being religious?
2. In Acts 22:6–11, how did Paul's encounter with Jesus change his understanding of himself and his need for God's grace? What might God use in our lives to show us that we need Him?
3. In Acts 22:12–16, Paul receives instructions through Ananias, including the call to be baptized and call upon the name of the Lord. What do these verses teach us about responding to God's grace, and how can we demonstrate our faith through obedience?
4. In Acts 22:17–21, Paul explains how God redirected his plans and sent him to the Gentiles. Why might God call us beyond our comfort zones or change the direction we expected our lives to take? Have you experienced this yourself? How can we learn to trust His plan?

Questions for the Week

1. In Acts 22:3–5, Paul describes his religious background and his persecution of Christians. How could Paul be so sincere in his beliefs and yet be so wrong? What does this teach us about the importance of knowing Jesus, not simply being religious?
2. In Acts 22:6–11, how did Paul's encounter with Jesus change his understanding of himself and his need for God's grace? What might God use in our lives to show us that we need Him?
3. In Acts 22:12–16, Paul receives instructions through Ananias, including the call to be baptized and call upon the name of the Lord. What do these verses teach us about responding to God's grace, and how can we demonstrate our faith through obedience?
4. In Acts 22:17–21, Paul explains how God redirected his plans and sent him to the Gentiles. Why might God call us beyond our comfort zones or change the direction we expected our lives to take? Have you experienced this yourself? How can we learn to trust His plan?